Ceremonies mark growth

Progress continues in the Choctaw Nation with a groundbreaking for a new Emergency Response Complex in Durant and the opening of a food distribution center in Poteau.

A groundbreaking April 5 was set to begin at 10 a.m. in Durant – three shiny fire trucks lined up where a 7,600-square-foot Emergency Response Complex is to be built. As city, county, state and tribal officials and many area citizens gathered for the ceremony, an emergency call came in – the first truck pulled out at 10 a.m., responding to a wreck on Hwy. 69/75.

At 10:30 a.m., everyone heard the motor start on the second truck. Another automobile accident had occurred on South Ninth Street near the fairgrounds.

JOM programs continuing excellence in education

Director Rebecca Clapp, Chief Gregory E. Pyle, and Sheela Kirvy and Jan West of Heavener.

“Survival of the Future ... Begins Today” was the theme of the 2007 Oklahoma Johnson-O’Malley Conference held in March at the Tulsa Southern Hills Marriott. Two schools were honored this year by the Choctaw Nation as having the best JOM programs – Heavener and Rock Creek.

Director Rebecca Clapp, Chief Gregory E. Pyle, and Angela Jackson, Bill Neamon, Melissa Mitchell and Cheryl Dill of Rock Creek.

Governor Brad Henry, Senior Miss Courtney Baker, Choctaw Veteran Alvie Carney, Junior Miss Ra’Chelle DiNardo-Chuckluck, and Representative Terry Harrison.

Birthday Bash guests include surprise visit from Governor

The Expo Center west of McAlester was packed as hundreds gathered for a party in honor of Chief Gregory E. Pyle and Councilman Bob Pate who both celebrate April birthdays. A surprise visit by Governor Brad Henry was a highlight of the evening in which many took the podium to praise and “roast” the two tribal leaders. More photos of the event will be published in the June BISHINIK.

Choctaw Centurian

This beautiful Choctaw lady from Muskogee celebrated her 100th birthday on March 20. Chief Gregory E. Pyle and Assistant Chief Mike Bailey paid a visit to Callie Smith Gladney, bringing gifts from the tribe and wishing her a very happy birthday.

Filing dates set for tribal elections

The Choctaw Nation Tribal Council approved the filing dates and dates for the upcoming tribal elections for Chief and Councilpersons in District 1, District 2, District 3, District 5, District 8 and District 11. Three days, May 14-16, have been set for filing with election on July 14. If there is a need for a runoff election, it will be held August 4. Filing will be held from 8 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. at the Choctaw Nation Election Board, located at the Tribal Complex in Durant. Candidates must file in person. Rules and regulations for the 2007 elections were also approved by the Council.

The process of repairing and restoring the historic capitol building at Tushka Homma was authorized. A grant from the State of Oklahoma Centennial Commission will provide $70,000 of the cost with $80,000 in tribal funds completing the $150,000 project.

Also on the agenda:

- an application to the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services for the Transitional Living Program and Maternity Group Homes Grant
- an application to the U.S. Department of Education for the Native American Career and Technical Education Program Grant
- approval for the Choctaw Language Advisory Committee to serve as an Institutional Review Board for the National Science Foundation documenting Endangered Languages Grant
- donation of a 1982 MCI bus to Eastern Oklahoma State College, Wilburton
- an easement of right of way to Bryan County Rural District #5
- a modification to the tribe’s 20-year long-range transportation plan, and
- a modification to the fiscal year 2007 tribal operations.

On March 27, Assistant Special Agent in Charge David Johnson, BIA, swore in the Choctaw Nation Tribal Police for a Special Law Enforcement Commission with BIA. Each officer had to fill out an application with a full background investigation including fingerprints, and had to attend a course on federal, tribal and state criminal procedures. The SLBC commission gives the tribal officers authority to enforce all federal laws within Indian Country. It also allows for the tribal officers to assist BIA on other Indian land at the request of the BIA.

Tribal police cross-deputized

The Bureau of Indian Affairs of Law Enforcement Services and the Oklahoma Tribal Relation Board signed a new cross-deputization agreement in January 2006, ending a two-year effort to create an agreement that will allow all the police agencies, tribes, BIA, the State of Oklahoma, and the state political subdivisions to cross-deputize under one agreement. Under this new agreement it will greatly enhance the liability protection, effectiveness and cooperation of all parties to the agreement.

On July 11, 2006, the Choctaw Nation Tribal Council approved a council bill for the cross-deputization agreement between the Choctaw Nation of Oklahoma and the BIA, the State of Oklahoma and the state's political subdivisions, and local law enforcement agencies.

The purpose of the cross-deputization agreement is to provide more efficient, effective and better cooperative law enforcement in and around Indian Country. It allows for all parties to cooperate with each other to provide comprehensive and thorough law enforcement protection, including but not limited to effecting arrests, responding to calls for assistance from all citizens and also from other law enforcement officers. The Choctaw Tribal Police Department has signed addendum for cross-deputization with just about all of the city, counties, and the district attorney offices within the Choctaw Nation territory. Choctaw Tribal Police has also signed cross-deputization agreements with the other tribes in Oklahoma and the BIA.

The cross-deputization allows for tribal police to have the same authority as the local law enforcement officer that they are assisting and also gives the local law enforcement officer authority on Indian land. This helps to provide better coverage for both Indian and non-Indian citizens when law enforcement is needed.

Historic Preservation Department presented Regional Foresters award

During the recent To Bridge a Gap Conference held March 12-15 in Norman, the Choctaw Nation Historic Preservation Department received the Regional Foresters Honor Award. The annual TBAG conference was initiated five years ago by the Historic Preservation Department of the Choctaw Nation and they hosted the event for the first two years. The mission of TBAG is to bring the National Forest Service and the tribal governments together for consultation under Section 106 of the National Historic Preservation Act and the Native American Graves and Repatriation Act. Receiving the awards are Terry Cole, Tribal Historic Preservation officer; Caren Johnson, administrative assistant; and Olin Williams, senior heritage resource technician.

The department would like to introduce the newest staff member of the Historic Preservation Department, Valarie Robison. We are excited to have Valarie as part of our staff in the secretarial position for the Historic Preservation Department as we experience continued growth and success in our mission to preserve, protect and defend the sacred and enduring legacies of our Choctaw ancestors.

The REACH Tiger Cubs Lil' Dribblers preschool/kindergarten group met and practiced once a week on their basketball handling skills and received Tiger basketballs at an end-of-program party. They joined students from grades one through four in showing off their skills during Talihina High School games. Good job!

Jones Academy students learning about good nutrition and health

Jones Academy's first through fifth grade students are proudly displaying appreciation posters for the kitchen staff at Jones Academy. Each student wrote a thank you letter to the kitchen staff for all their hard work and dedication.

Raina Sparks, community dietician for Choctaw Nation, has been scheduled one day a week to work with students and staff at Jones Academy for the 2006-07 school year. Students at Jones Academy receive nutrition education and physical activities during her visits.

"The students and kitchen staff have been working very hard toward improving nutrition awareness and health and I'm very proud of all of them," Mrs. Sparks said.

Brad Spears, administrator at Jones Academy, said he is very pleased with the progress and healthy improvements that have been made at Jones Academy over the past three years. He would also like to thank the Choctaw Nation's Diabetes Wellness Center for making this program available for the students and staff at Jones Academy.

"This program is making a positive impact in lives of the students now and in the future," he said.

Samuels keeping culture alive

Norris and Brenda Samuels are back in session with another adult and children's Choctaw language class at the OK Choctaw Tribal Alliance in Oklahoma City. The adult class began on March 27. The children's classes are taught on Saturdays.

The Native American and non-Native American communities in Oklahoma City know Brenda and Norris as "teachers" of their native tongue. They have been married for 20 years and have five children and seven grandchildren. Both enjoy teaching the Choctaw language, culture, and Choctaw songs. They also enjoy gospel singings and support the Choctaw preachings in Oklahoma. Both are active in their Indian churches. Norris is the pianist, choir director and lay leader at Angie Smith United Methodist Church. He is a veteran of the U.S. Army 101st Airborne Division and is a member of the Choctaw Nation Veterans Association. Brenda is a children's church teacher and choir member at Victory Baptist Church. She is also a Choctaw language instructor at the University of Oklahoma.

The Samuels cherish the many friendships they have made and have said it is an honor to be called upon to sing at funerals, church revivals, and special occasions. They encourage their Native brothers and sisters to carry on the Choctaw language.

On March 17, the Samuels and the children's Choctaw language class were in the Oklahoma City St. Patrick's Day Parade. The children sang a Choctaw hymn to the delight of the Irish people.

The OK Choctaw Tribal Alliance Princess Committee selected the Samuels for "their Choctaw walk" in keeping the language and history alive through teachings. They were recognized at the Honor Dance for the OK Choctaw Princess last May.

The Samuels sincerely appreciate the support from Chief Pyle, Assistant Chief Bailey, Richard Adams, and the Choctaw Language Program.

Congratulations on graduation

Mandi Lynn Montgomery of Plano, Texas, received her nursing degree from Collin County Community College on December 15, 2006. She is now a registered nurse, specializing in pediatrics. ## Family members discover each other

Dear Choctaw Nation,

On February 18, the Choctaw held their meeting in Phoenix, Arizona. I am a student of Lillie Roberts' online class. We each knew the other would be there. As I was signing in, my wife said, "There's your teacher," having recognized her from my online sessions. When Chief Pyle asked Lillie to comment on her language classes, she mentioned me by name and I raised my hand.

After the meeting, a gentleman and his wife sought me out and said, "We heard your name and we think we are related. My name is James Flowers and this is my wife, Jane!"

Indeed, we are related. His grandmother is my grandfather's sister! We had some incredible moments there, discovering each other, having never before met. We have talked on the phone and found out I know several of his family members and he knows mine. James told me, "I'm so glad to know you!" How amazing is that!

Then we both discovered another member of our Choctaw family was there, too. When Lillie mentioned my name, another family on the row in front of where I was sitting looked around and said to each other, "I think we are related to Charles Harkins!" It took me about a month to come up with her phone number and I called her. Sandy Noonan and husband Dennis had been there and we too are related, never having talked to or seen each other.

James Flowers and Sandy Noonan share the same grandmother, Lorena Mae Harkins. I talked on the phone at length with Sandy and she shared stories about my grandfather, Albert Pike Harkins. I am still overwhelmed that all of this could happen at a Choctaw meeting.

Searching for relatives

Dear Choctaw Nation,

I am searching for relatives who live near Spiro, Oklahoma, where my father, Harold Lynn Cottingim, was born. His mother was Nellie Louise Tibbitts (Tibbitts). Many of our relatives are the McClain-Ainsworth and Tibbitts family members. I would also like to know of any family reunions that my father and I may be able to attend to reconnect with relatives. Anyone with information on living relatives or ancestry information for my family tree, please contact me at 7426 S. Winston Ave., Tulsa, OK 74136; 918-808-2272; or e-mail me at cherrytemple@juno.com. Most of my immediate family is gone and I would really like to know some of my relatives. Any help would be appreciated.

Researching family history

Dear Choctaw Nation,

I am searching for my family history. I am looking for information on Rebecca McMurry. She married O.M. McMurry on August 28, 1900. She had previously been married to a man by the name of William Farlie (non-citizen of the Choctaws). Rebecca has two children by her first marriage, John and Nettie Farlie. William was said to have been killed in a mining accident. Rebecca had many children with O.M. McMurry - Ervin, Babe, Lee, Daisy, Lilly (still living), Evie who died as an infant, and more whose names I don't remember.

There was a Dorothy (Opal Lois) Epperson who is said to be related.

According to records, Rebecca's parents were Jack and Catherine Fulton. I believe Catherine's parents to be Silas and Elizabeth Gardner.

Please, if anyone has any history on these people, e-mail me at cparisau@yahoo.com. Thank you.

Cheryl Rizzo

Career development opportunities for Choctaws nationwide

Chief Gregory E. Pyle

From the Desk of Chief Gregory E. Pyle

The Choctaw Nation has been blessed with successful tribal businesses, which not only provide thousands of jobs, they also provide the money necessary to fund services and programs. Education is extremely important, and there are several ways the tribe assists tribal members who are interested in academics.

The tribe has initiated a brand new education service for tribal members – a Career Development Program that will offer training opportunities through facilities such as technical and trade schools. Our Higher Education Scholarship Program and Vocational Development Program have helped thousands of students, and the new Career Development Program will be an exciting addition to the list of education services offered to Choctaw people.

The Career Development Program will provide funding for training institutes, technical schools, and vocational instruction in specialized jobs. This unique approach will be funded totally from tribal dollars, and will offer professional training to those who want to create a better life and earn a good wage, but for whatever reason, do not wish to seek a degree from a university.

Staff are on board now to begin the process of applications and information. You may call toll-free to 1-800-522-6170, ext. 2549. The fall semester will open the door to this exceptional method of helping people along the right path to a job that they are proud of. The goal of this program is to help individuals and families be self-sufficient, and with the proper tools, each person can be a genuine success.

Sin is an attitude toward God

May is a memorial month when we pay our honor and respect to our brave men and women who served in our military services. Many have paid the supreme sacrifice with their life. May God bless the loved ones and friends.

Human history began on this earth when God created Adam and Eve and placed them in the Garden of Eden. God warned them not to eat of the forbidden fruit, but they did the very thing that God told them not to do, and immediately their sin separated them from God.

The Lord God then came into the garden and pronounced the program for future human history upon the earth.

Our study is the "Beginning of Sin" found in Genesis 3:1: "Now the serpent was more subtle than any beast of the field which the Lord had made. And he said unto the woman, yea, hath God said, ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?"

The first two chapters of Genesis declare truth which only Satan and his followers doubt. When we come to the first verse in Genesis 3, we meet with a question, and I don't believe we ought to be surprised, when we realize who it is that is speaking. It is none other than the serpent. Satan incarnated in the most beautiful beast of the field which God had made.

It is Satan who casts the first doubt upon the Word of God. Notice how clever he does this to gain the ear of Eve. Satan is the great deceiver. He came in the body of a beautiful animal, walking with pride and dignity and with the power of speech.

Notice how Satan twists God's Word to Eve's mind and then he gives a wrong idea of God. He says, "Yea, hath God said, ye shall not eat of every tree of the garden?" Satan claims that God is unfair in not allowing Adam and Eve to eat of all the trees, because God had forbidden them to eat of one tree.

Eve's first sin was committed before that when she believed Satan instead of God. When she believed that God was unfair in not allowing her to eat of all the trees. Even the tree of the knowledge of good and evil. That was the root of her sin, and the act of taking of the fruit was only the natural result of her questioning the Word of God.

Sin is not just an act but an attitude toward God. The act is that which only man sees. God sees both the heart and the act. Man looketh on the outward appearance, but God looked on the heart. (1 Samuel 16:7).

We think of murder as sin, but in the Bible it says, "He that hateth his brother is a murderer." We think of immoral acts as sin, but Jesus said, it is more – "He that looked upon a woman to lust after her hath already committed adultery in his heart."

Stealing is an outward sin but it is covetousness or greed in the heart which causes it. Sin then is not only in the hand that takes the forbidden fruit but also in the heart which does not believe God's Word.

Eve first sinned when she doubted God's Word and listened to Satan. Notice what Eve said to the serpent in Genesis 3:2-3:

"And the woman said unto the serpent, We may eat of the fruit of the trees of the garden: but of the fruit of the tree which is in the midst of the garden, God hath said, ye shall not eat of it, neither shall ye touch it, lest ye die."

Right there Eve fell, and the eating of the fruit was only the result of the first sin. The first sin of Eve was doubting God's character, and the next thing was lying. Eve was a liar. Before she was a liar she was an unbeliever.

How did Eve lie? What Eve quoted God as saying was not the truth. God had said in Genesis 2:16-17: "And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, of every tree of the garden thou mayest freely eat: but of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil thou shalt not eat of it: for in the day that thou eatest thereof thou shalt surely die."

Compare that with Eve's statement, "Ye shall not eat of it, lest ye die." God said "Thou shalt surely die." There is a great difference in these two statements.

As we look closely at the statement of Eve we find that she made three mistakes, this leads to great danger. First, she added something to God's Word, "neither shall ye touch it." God had said that ye shall not eat of it. He said nothing about touching. That was Eve's own interpretation.

Second, she changed something in the Word of God. She changed the certain death to

Chaplain's Corner

The Rev. Bertram Bobb

just a possibility of death by saying, "Lest ye die," instead of "Thou shalt surely die." And finally, she left out the most important part of God's Word, "surely." God had said, "Thou shalt surely die."

From there on the rest was easy, Satan had convinced her that she wouldn't really die.

The record goes on to say that she looked at the tree, desired it, and ate of it, and fell and found out that in spite of her own interpretation of what God meant, it still was true and she died – spiritually. Her fellowship with God was finished until God acted.

In this record, Eve acted the part of a modern unbeliever. Here is where unbelief begins and it always follows the same course. The Bible alone must remain our sole authority for faith or we shall find ourselves where Eve began.

Notice the enemy, Satan, quickly detects Eve's weakness and gives the reply in Genesis 3:4-5: "And the serpent said unto the woman, Ye shall not surely die: For God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

The methods of Satan worked so well on Eve he has never changed it. If ever there was a time and need for preaching on this view of sin, it is today when man boasts of their goodness and self-righteousness, and because they live outwardly good and moral lives, deceive themselves into thinking they are not sinners, and do not need a Savior.

But once we look at sin as God sees it, we can agree we need the cleansing blood of the Lord Jesus Christ. We can accept His gift of forgiveness and then offer ourselves as servants to God. (Romans 6:22-23).

May God bless you and your loved ones. I pray for our leaders and our servicemen and women.

Tragic day at Virginia Tech

From the Desk of Assistant Chief Mike Bailey

The tragedy at Virginia Tech touched the Choctaw Nation through our Higher Education Department. One of the scholarship recipients, Lauren McCain, was killed in her German class. Her grandmother is a resident of Durant.

The tribe offered assistance to the family, but the most valued thing we can all give is our prayers. Rooted in Christianity, the family has shown tremendous strength, witnessing about Jesus Christ and the opportunity of salvation. I appreciate this open praise of our Lord and Savior, especially in a time of such individual pain for the family.

An article about an instructor of foreign languages on faculty at VT, Jamie Bishop, talked about his love of toli, the Choctaw stickball game. Mr. Bishop was also shot and killed April 16th. Please remember the families of these and the other victims in your prayers.

Celebrating the donation of a van from the Choctaw Nation to the Green Hill Baptist Church in Talihina are Carol and Wilburn Bacon, Councilman Kenny Bryant, Pastor Art Potts, Chief Greg Pyle and Brian McClain. The tribal leaders also announced that the town of Talihina will benefit from tribal roads money. The Choctaw Nation will be resurfacing over seven miles of streets in the city limits. Funds exceeding $1 million were procured from the Bureau of Indian Affairs to do the road work.

Chief Greg Pyle joined the celebration at Fort Towson High School on the award of a $47,943 grant from Major League Baseball's Baseball Tomorrow Foundation. The school will use the funding to purchase a new lighting system for the baseball field, marking the completion of a seven-year development project. The Choctaw Nation, Little Dixie Agency, area businesses and members of the community pitched in to help make the ball complex a dream come true.

HEALTHY LIFESTYLES

Is your child 'home alone?'

Children are sometimes home alone while parents are working or away for some other reason. It is generally believed, however, that children under the age of 12 should not be left home alone.

Here are some suggestions to increase the safety of your older child and ease your mind while he or she is home alone:

- Agree on ground rules for those times when you are not home; for example, rules for cooking, leaving the house, having friends over, etc.
- Assign your children tasks to accomplish while you're gone. Try to keep them busy!
- Be sure to have telephone numbers posted where you can be reached. Also, make sure you list numbers for fire and police, neighbors, and relatives.
- If your children arrive home to an empty house, be sure to call and check in with them.
- Enroll your children in a course on safety procedures. Their safety is related to their knowledge of how to protect themselves. Check with the girl or boy scouts, your local hospital, or the YMCA/Boys and Girls Club for courses.
- Talk to your children about their concerns when they are home alone. Make sure everyone understands each other.
- Remember, with proper guidelines, being home for limited periods of time can increase independence, responsibility, and confidence in your children.

Running tips for kids

Before you run

Never go running alone, no matter where you live. The reasons for this rule are endless. Find yourself a "running buddy" or someone who will ride a bicycle at your side.

When you start running, keep your total distance at or below three miles (five kilometers) each time. If you're doing a round-trip run, then choose a turn-around point that's no further than a mile and a half away. Since you're still growing, your bones and joints are different from an adult's and longer distances could work against you. There will be plenty of time to train for marathons when you're older.

Kids are more sensitive to temperature changes than adults. If it's hot outside, try to run in the morning or evening when it's coolest.

Drink water about 20 or 30 minutes before you start your run, and make sure there is water along the way. Some sports drinks are okay, but don't drink anything that has caffeine in it. Caffeine can dehydrate you, and it's especially bad for girls because it steals calcium from their bones. Water is just as good for you as any fancy sports drink.

What to wear

- Lightweight running shoes that fit you well and have plenty of support.
- If it's hot out, a hat keeps sun off your face. In cold weather, it keeps heat in. Light, breathable fabrics are best.
- Lightweight, comfortable clothing. Avoid thick, heavy clothing.
- Thin socks that wick sweat from your feet.
- Light colors are best for visibility and reflecting the light.

During your run

Don't break into a sprint as soon as you start.

Begin by walking for at least three or four minutes to get your muscles warmed up. The same way, end your run with a few minutes to cool down. Abruptly starting and stopping is not good for your heart or your muscles.

Have fun! Keep your face, shoulders and hands relaxed (don't tense up). You should be able to keep a conversation going with your running buddy the whole time. If you're too out of breath to do this, then slow down.

After your run

When you're finished, take a few minutes to stretch, especially your leg muscles. Your calves, hip flexors and hamstrings need it the most.

Your body lost a lot of fluid while you ran, so make sure you drink some water or juice.

You'll also want to eat something within an hour of running to help replace lost energy stores. The best choices are a combination of carbohydrates (breads, cereals, rice and pasta) and protein (meats, nuts, dairy foods and beans). A turkey sandwich or a bowl of cereal would both be good after-run snacks. Ask an adult who knows a lot about food to give you some ideas.

More tips for kids who run

If you're involved in sports already, adding running to your busy schedule might be too much. Talk to your parents or your coaches to get advice. Your body can't become healthier unless it has time to rest and repair itself between activities.

Don't run every day at first – two or three times a week is plenty. Again, your body needs to rest and repair, and to get used to this new activity. Just go for a walk, a swim or a bike ride on your off days. Combining activities like this is called "cross training," and it's the best way to stay in shape.

For more information call Choctaw Nation Wellness Education-REACH 2010 at 800-349-7026, ext. 6044 or 6958

A track is the safest, best place to train. If you can't get to one, try a baseball, football or soccer field, or a running trail in your local park. Wherever you run, there should be other people around, and the terrain should be smooth enough so that you're not risking spraining an ankle or hurting your knees from too much impact.

If you're brand new to running and it seems too difficult, use interval training to work yourself up. Start by walking for five minutes, running for two minutes, walking for five and so on. As your body gets used to it, you can walk for two minutes and run for five, walk for one minute and run for seven ... whatever works best for you that day. Eventually, you'll be able to run for longer periods without becoming exhausted.

Most of all, have fun! Kids are natural runners. A lot of adults are too serious when they run and they forget to enjoy themselves. Those who remember to have fun are much healthier and happier in the long RUN!

Facts about teens and alcohol

Rule #1: Teens and alcohol should not be mixed!

The end of the school year is rapidly approaching. That means prom and graduation are also upon us. Unfortunately, some teenagers relate the two with reasons to consume alcohol. These are times to celebrate and have fun, but make the night even more memorable by staying sober. Statistics show that traffic deaths among teens during typical prom season weekends (March 1-May 31) are higher than any other time of year. In 2005, 290 young people ages 15-20 were killed in alcohol-related crashes – of those, 198 deaths involved a 15- to 20-year-old alcohol-impaired driver.

Facts:

- Drinking alcohol before the brain is finished developing (around the age of 21) causes damage to the areas of the brain responsible for learning and memory.

- The first thing alcohol typically affects is judgment. If you can't make a good decision, you can't protect yourself.

- Studies show the three leading causes of injury and death for teens – unintentional injuries, homicides, and suicides – involve alcohol.

- The younger that person is when they start drinking alcohol, the higher the risk is for being alcohol dependent later in life.

- Most teenagers do not know you could die from an alcohol overdose.

- Beer and wine are not "safer" than hard liquor. A 12-ounce can of beer, a 5-ounce glass of wine and 1 ounce of hard liquor all have the same amount of alcohol.

- Teens who report that their parents allow them to drink at home or under special circumstances are three times more likely to drink and drive.

Teens, make your prom and graduation the most memorable. Drinking alcohol leads to fights among close friends, making decisions that you may regret later, and sometimes tragedies of losing friends and classmates. Stay sober, have fun, and make lasting GOOD memories.

Children's Mental Health Awareness Day

Choctaw Nation CARES Project will be promoting resource events throughout Choctaw Nation communities in conjunction with National Children's Mental Health Awareness Day. For further information about events contact your local field office or call CARES at 918-567-4128.

The Choctaw Nation CARES Project recently received a visit from the National Indian Child Welfare Association (NICWA). Vickie Oana, Marjorie Withers and Delores Jimmerson visited the CARES Project March 26-28 to provide technical assistance on sustainability and in-kind funds.

National Children's Mental Health Awareness Day is scheduled to build on long-standing "May Is Mental Health Month" and "Children's Mental Health Week" traditions of mental health and family organizations.

May Is Mental Health Month was first celebrated by the National Mental Health Association 50 years ago as a way to further elevate awareness of children's mental health. Children's Mental Health Week was established by the Federation of Families for Children's Mental Health.

By holding National Children's Mental Health Awareness Day on May 8, children's mental health initiatives will have the opportunity to partner with the numerous family and mental health organizations that are holding events during this time. In particular, we see substantial opportunities for children's mental health initiatives to partner with their local statewide family network organizations. These organizations have been collaborating with the Federation of Families on Children's Mental Health Week events for the past 10 years and they will be an invaluable resource for National Children's Mental Health Awareness Day.

When can I start putting bug repellent on my baby?

It's that time of year again; time to protect yourself and your children from bug and tick bites. While outdoors (especially doing activities like hiking), be sure to check each other for ticks from time to time and at the end of the day examine everyone's skin carefully. Ticks don't sting or itch when they bite, so your toddler may get bitten and not even know it.

The following information is provided by babycenter.com:

According to the American Academy of Pediatrics, repellents made with DEET (officially known as N, N-diethyl-m-toluamide or N, N-diethyl-3-methylbenzamide) seem to offer the most protection against mosquitoes and ticks. You need to worry most about those insects because they can carry serious diseases like West Nile virus and Lyme

Age: 2 mos 2 months and older disease. Research shows DEET-containing repellents are safe to use on babies 2 months and older provided you follow these precautions:

- Use a product that contains no more than 10 percent DEET; higher concentrations are not considered safe for children.
- Apply the DEET product just once a day.
- Apply the repellent sparingly and only to areas of exposed skin, never under clothing.
- Don't apply repellents near your baby's eyes and mouth, or to cut or infected skin.
- Avoid your baby's hands because young babies often suck on them.

• Don't use DEET products near food.

• If you're using a sunscreen that also contains DEET, apply it just once. Don't use an additional form of DEET. Then if you need to apply more sunscreen, use one that's DEET-free.

• Once indoors, use soap and water to rinse the areas of your baby's skin where you applied the repellent.

• If you'd rather not use products containing DEET, bug repellents made with citronella are considered safe for babies 2 months and older, but since they're not as effective as DEET they need to be reapplied throughout the day.

Tip: No matter what kind of bug repellent you use, dress your baby in light-colored clothing that covers as much of his skin as possible. According to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, light colors allow you to see ticks on your baby's clothing and are less appealing to biting bugs than dark colors, so they act as a deterrent.

Breastfeeding becoming more popular

Several Choctaw Nation employees completed a three-day workshop on clinical breastfeeding assistance in Durant. Debi Currie of Durant, Kimberly Lain of Durant, Linda Woolbright of Durant, Vicki Frazier of Atoka, Betty Baker of Hugo, Brenda Isom of McAlester, Tammy Kinsey of Poteau, Erin Boman of Poteau, Marie Oehler of Broken Bow and Ami Richards attended the conference sponsored by the Choctaw Nation WIC program and Lactation Consultant Services.

In addition to participating in the workshop which addressed the normal course of lactation, they completed an assessment and problem-solving practicum and an examination addressing usual circumstances and common challenges of breastfeeding. Certification is an added credential that recognizes clinical competence in the field of breastfeeding assistance.

The Choctaw Nation WIC program has a Peer Counselor program with Kimberly Lain as peer counselor manager and Ami Richards and Erin Boman as peer counselors. The WIC program has 10 certified breastfeeding educators as well as four certified lactation consultants.

Today, most mothers breastfeed. Employed mothers, mothers at home, mothers of premature or ill infants, and mothers in a variety of special situations choose breastfeeding because of its numerous benefits.

Scientific investigators have recently identified benefits of breastfeeding which include increased intelligence, protection against childhood infections, diabetes, liver disease, certain types of cancers, allergies, immune system disorders, and sudden infant death syndrome. Mothers who breastfeed have a reduced incidence of breast cancer and osteoporosis.

Mothers often explain that they initiate breastfeeding because of the benefits for their baby, but continue breastfeeding because they enjoy a special closeness with their babies.

As breastfeeding becomes more popular, mothers look to health care providers for assistance. Traditional mother-to-daughter teaching and assistance is less available since there is a generation of grandmothers who primarily bottle-fed their babies. Increased geographic mobility among extended families further decreases assistance available to new mothers.

The conference was developed and presented by Debi Leslie Bocar, RN, PhD. Dr. Bocar, who is a certified lactation consultant, noted that families who would benefit most from breastfeeding, breastfeed least often. She shared strategies to encourage mothers to breastfeed and assist them in a variety of special family circumstances.

"Practical assistance from knowledgeable health care providers is critical to get breastfeeding off to a good start. Experts must also be available for telephone assistance, home health care, and outpatient consultations to assist mothers overcome common challenges during the first few weeks," emphasized Dr. Bocar. Certified Breastfeeding Educators™ are qualified to assist families to meet their breastfeeding goals.

WIC Stay active with kids in local, natural surroundings

Journalist Richard Louv recently coined the phrase "Nature Deficit Disorder" to describe the increasing alienation from the natural world being experienced by so many children living in today's electronic age. Disorder or not, too much time spent in front of the TV, computer or video games and not enough time being physically active outdoors can have negative physical and mental implications for children and teens. Below you'll find information on helping children get back outside and enjoy being physically active in the natural world around them.

HEALTH BENEFITS OF ACTIVE LIVING FOR CHILDREN

It is "old news" that being physically active is a key element in living a longer and healthier life. However, in recent years, so much more has been discovered about the benefits of active living, such as:

- reduces stress
- improves self-esteem and feelings of well-being
- helps build and maintain bones, muscles and joints
- builds endurance and muscle strength
- enhances flexibility and posture
- helps manage weight
- reduces feelings of depression and anxiety
- enhances academic performance

Physical activity is good for your body and your mind. When you exercise, you move your body to stay fit. If you don't include any physical activity in your day, just like an old worn out car, your body doesn't work very well.

Teams complete fourth round of Fitness Challenge

Round 4 of the Choctaw Nation Fitness Challenge ended on February 11. There were a total of 44 five-person teams involved in the 12-week challenge. They competed as a team, earning physical activity points. Weight loss points were added at the end of the challenge. A total of 434.5 pounds were lost.

The overall winner and champions for activity points and weight loss points combined was Team Psyche of Talihina with 11,335 points. Team members include Mary Ayn Tullier, Eli Tullier, Mary Barrs, Dr. James Howard and Herve Lucier. Each team member earned $50 gift cards.

The individual with the most activity points was Hoss Ward with 3,382.5 points. He earned a $75 Hibbett Sport gift card.

Second place activity points and earning $30 gift cards was The Robust Renegades of Talihina, whose team members were Jamie Bullock, Tim Brewer, Paul Pope, Laquetia Helm and Libby Morgan.

Third place was The Herculeids of Talihina, whose team included Jeremiah Johnson, Ambre Curran, Anthony Cotter, Julie Cotter and Art Potts.

The individual with the most weight loss was Kristi Himes of Idabel from the Big Losers team. She lost 13.32 percent of her weigh-in weight. She received a $75 gift card from Hibbett Sport. The team with the most combined weight loss was The Big Losers of Idabel. They had a 4.7 percent weight loss from their weigh-in weight. Team members were Vanessa Ardese, Wendy Gaines, Stephanie Story, Santana Aguirre and Kristi Himes. Each of those team members received a $50 gift card.

Second place weight loss team with a 2.67 percent weight loss was 2 Much 2 Lose of Talihina with team members Hoss Ward, Sherry Ward, Todd Fry, Michelle Fry and Mark Curran. They received $30 gift cards.

Third place winner in weight loss was Tons of Fun of Broken Bow with 2.52 percent of their weigh-in weight lost. They received $20 cards and team members were Winema Watson, Kelly Adams, Sandra Frazier, Misty Barrick and Tammy Tappley.

A goal of starting the challenge was assisting participants in establishing healthy habits. One team member of the Robust Renegades, Paul Pope, says he has established exercising as a daily habit. Prior to the challenge, Paul reports he exercised three times a week, maybe. Once he joined a team on the fitness challenge he began exercising twice a day. In January he won the Fitness Center member of the month at the Diabetes Wellness Center in Talihina and was awarded a pair of Nike shoes.

Paul logged 55 hours and 46 minutes of exercise at DWC's fitness center. His doctor decreased his blood pressure medicine and he says he has went down a size in his clothing. Paul says he has dropped back from two-a-days to once daily but it is and definitely will be part of his daily routine.

The Wellness/REACH department would like to thank Joyce Wells from the Healthy Lifestyles program for their financial support with the project, the DWC fitness center staff in Talihina for their help with the weigh-ins, and most of all, the participants who make it all possible. Keep up the healthy habits.

Teens and eating disorders

PART 4 OF 5

Prevention

As a parent, we all know having the puberty talk with our children is almost as hard on us as it is them. There are several things you can do, besides talking to your preteen about body changes to expect during puberty, to help prevent an eating disorder in your child:

Examine your own attitudes and behaviors regarding weight and appearance. Talk with your children about genetic differences in body types and devastating effects of irrational prejudice.

Examine what you are modeling. Do you exhibit acceptance of yourself and take appropriate measures to deal with your body function and size?

Examine your dreams and goals for your children and other loved ones. Are you overemphasizing physical appearance and body shape?

Don't shame or ridicule your child (verbally or nonverbally). Parents who do can send your child careening toward an eating disorder.

Be aware of the messages you send about the "chubby child" in your family. Do you communicate, through words and action, positive or negative feelings?

Don't encourage or force your children to diet. It can actually push your kids toward unhealthy eating patterns that last a lifetime.

Be involved and offer appropriate direction. Abdicating your parental role by offering your children too little direction can also be just as damaging as controlling too tightly.

Help to develop your teen's critical thinking skills by talking about people with the "perfect" body have problems and dysfunctions just like everyone else.

Be a good role model by eating sensibly, using exercise as a path to good health and enjoyment.

Encourage your teenager's self-respect.

Practice complimenting people for what they say, feel and do – not for how thin they are.

If you suspect your teen is already developing an eating disorder, seek help immediately. Early detection and treatment are very important, so consult with a qualified medical or mental health professional right away.

Next month, the last of the series; Part 5: How to Help.

Youth Advisory Board makes, donates 25 blankets

Choctaw Nation Youth Advisory Board students from the Hugo, Soper and Bennington area made blankets for their local Pregnancy Care Center and for the Choctaw Nation Adolescent Family Life Program.

Students who worked on the blankets are Danielle Adams, Chelsea Wells, Alexis Collins, Anna Hamilton, Maria Santillan, Thomas Parris, Adam Crissman, Ashley Smith, Jeremy Teal, Kirby Coffee, Noella Curiel and Vikki Rankin.

The Youth Advisory Board students made a total of 25 blankets in partnership with the Hugo Pregnancy Care Center and the Choctaw Nation Adolescent Family Life Program.

The students gathered the funds to make eight blankets for the Pregnancy Care Center and presented them to the director of the care center, Oleta Bryant. The center is a non-profit ministry that meets the needs of women and men in planned and unplanned pregnancies. All services are free. The Hugo Pregnancy Care Center is funded solely on donations from individuals, churches and businesses. If you would like to volunteer or make a donation, you can contact the Hugo Pregnancy Care Clinic toll-free at 888-354-BABY.

Angie Dancer, director of the Choctaw Nation Adolescent Family Life Program, partnered with the Youth Advisory Board and provided the material to make 17 blankets. The students created tie baby blankets and presented them to Dancer.

The Adolescent Family Life Program serves pregnant Native American teens under the age of 19, receiving health care at the Choctaw Nation Health Care Center. They must also live in the service area of Choctaw Nation. Participants receive education on pregnancy, parenting, nutrition, and childbirth. The program can also provide transportation, resources, home visits, and incentives. For more information on the Adolescent Family Life Program, call toll-free 800-349-7026, ext. 6441.

TO THE YOUTH OF THE NATION

How dropping out affects you, your state and nation

Submitted by Severt Dahl, Choctaw Nation Youth Advisory Board Member

Why do students drop out of school? There really isn't a single reason why students drop out. Choosing not to finish your education hurts you because dropouts tend to be at higher risk for teen pregnancy, substance abuse, and domestic violence. It also hurts your state and nation. In 2004, 1.3 million dropouts cost the nation more than $325 billion in lost wages, taxes, and productivity over their lifetimes. The national average of 69 percent of each state graduates. Oklahoma's average is above the national average with 71 percent of high school students who graduate, but we still have 29 percent who have not, and may never receive, a high school diploma.

The impact on the State of Oklahoma because of lost earnings and public assistance to our undereducated citizens is estimated to be nearly $3.9 billion per year. The state could also save money from students remaining in school. A 5 percent increase in the number of Oklahoma males who receive a high school diploma could reduce the state's arrest rate and the prison population, resulting in an annual savings of approximately $63 million. This new population of graduates would, in turn, increase their earning power, adding an additional $33 million in wages to Oklahoma's revenue.

So, the choice is up to you, and hopefully you'll make the choice to stay in school, not only to help your state and nation but to help yourself be more successful and provide more role models for future youth.

Statistics and other information were used from the Alliance for Excellent Education.

Women put down roots in agriculture

"Cultivating dreams, breaking new ground, and harvesting profits" will be the focus of the Women in Agriculture and Small Business Conference and Trade Show scheduled for June 7 at the Bob Lee Kidd Community Center in Poteau as we "empower women in rural America."

There will be a wide assortment of door prizes that will be given away during the day and a special drawing at the end of the day. Additionally, all conference attendees will receive a goody bag and a book filled with resource material. Registration fee to attend is $20 per person or $15 for students (student ID required), which includes the catered luncheon.

Counties in Oklahoma targeted for this event include Haskell, Latimer, LeFlore, McIntosh and Pittsburg, as well as western Arkansas. Anyone with an interest is welcome to attend. Early registration deadline is May 24 and late registration is $25 per person. For additional information, please call 918-423-2479.

Findings from the 2002 Agricultural Census were broken down by congressional district and released by the National Agricultural Statistics Service. Among the data:

- Oklahoma's 2nd District, which roughly includes the eastern third of the state, has 13,233 farms with women listed as operators. And 13,659 women are employed in one of the top three operating positions on the district's farms.
- The state's 3rd District, including most of northern and northwestern Oklahoma, ranks third in the nation, with 11,222 farms that have women operators. And 11,590 women are employed in one of the top three operating positions on the district's farms.
- Those two districts have more farms with women operators than the entire states of Louisiana, Idaho, or New Mexico.

As more women are becoming the principal operators and decision-makers on the farm, Ouachita Mountains Resource Conservation and Development Inc. hopes to assist not only women but men as well by providing this educational and networking opportunity. The conference features a choice of three concurring sessions addressing issues such as landowner rights, starting a new small business, mineral leasing, estate planning and many others.

There will also be a Producer Panel Discussion on the "Cattle Industry" by Barb Gilbertson, Dizzy B Ranch, Savanna, and on the "Goat Industry" by Barbara Tyson of Hodgen.

The conference also includes an equipment and vendor trade show that will include representatives from federal, state, and county agencies, as well as private businesses, and organizations. Exhibit spaces and sponsorships are still available if you are interested in becoming a part of this event.

You are invited and encouraged to take advantage of this unique opportunity to meet other women involved in agriculture and small business and become a part of a network of support while organizing your operation/business to accomplish your goals. Take home a wealth of information and keep "sowing the seeds of success" long after the conference is over!

Teague appointed general manager

Leah A. Teague of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, has been appointed General Manager of Food and Nutrition Services at Carlisle Regional Medical Center, Carlisle, Pennsylvania. This is a 163-bed hospital with over 40 diverse clinical specialties. Mrs. Teague serves with Sodexo, the leading food and facilities management company in North America, operating at 6,000 locations. Mrs. Teague is a registered dietitian and a licensed dietitian-nutritionist who holds degrees from the University of Maryland, Messiah College, and Finch University of Health Sciences. She is responsible for clinical nutrition services for patients, out-patient services in dietary counseling, the cafeteria, and catering at the facility.

Carlisle is home to the Army War College at the Carlisle Barracks, Dickinson College, and the Dickinson School of Law of Penn State University. It was also the location for the famed Carlisle Indian School, attended at the end of the 19th and beginning of the 20th Centuries by 83 Choctaw youth and those from many other tribes. Mrs. Teague is a proud member of the Choctaw Nation.

Odys and Bernice Brown of Heavener are grateful for the help they received from the tribe. While attending Poteau's grand opening festivities, Odys tells Chief Gregory E. Pyle about the knee surgery he had last year that meant so much to him.

Growth

"The first four or five minutes are critical in an emergency situation," said Chief Gregory E. Pyle. "Building this response center will greatly improve the response time on this end of town."

The $1.6 million facility has been made possible through a Department of Housing and Urban Development Indian Community Development Block Grant of $800,000 and another $800,000 of tribal funds. The Choctaw Nation is building the facility and the City of Durant is staffing and maintaining it. Two fire trucks and six firemen will be assigned to the new complex and the Bryan County EMS responders will be able to offer lifesaving services with an ambulance and around-the-clock personnel stationed there.

"The Choctaw Nation is extremely proud to be a partner with the City of Durant in a project that will make Durant and Bryan County a safer place to work and live," said Chief Pyle.

"It is excellent that the new facility is located near our tribal business in the south part of Durant," said Tribal Councilman Ted Dosh. "The Choctaw Nation is very pleased to provide this new Emergency Response Complex."

Milestones in the Choctaw Nation continued as Tribal Councilman Delton Cox picked up some specially made scissors to lead Chief Pyle, Assistant Chief Mike Bailey, other Councilmembers and Director Lisa Mullens in a ribbon-cutting ceremony on April 13, marking the opening of a new food distribution market in Poteau. The longstanding food distribution program has historically trucked in food supplies for participants twice a month to the town.

"This market will be open five days a week to make it much easier for clients in Poteau and surrounding towns to pick up their food items," said Chief Pyle. "Items available through the Choctaw Food Distribution Program now include fresh fruits and vegetables, frozen meat and a huge variety of canned and packaged goods."

Funding for this new concept in food distribution was provided by a USDA grant in the amount of $176,000.

The Choctaw Nation Food Distribution Program, which began with 150 clients, now serves approximately 6,200 Native Americans throughout its 10 1/2 county service area.

Peer program holds reception at EOSC

The Choctaw Nation Scholarship Advisement Program held a reception for Choctaw students on March 28 at Eastern Oklahoma State College, Wilburton. The students were welcomed by the program's peer advisor, Casi Dennis, who will be available on campus to help the students.

Assistant Chief Mike Bailey spoke to the students, impressing the importance of an education and how proud the tribe is to be able to offer such an important program for their use.

The new program, under the direction of Jo McDaniel, reaches out to Choctaw students who are about to graduate as well as those in college, striving to make their college experience the best possible. Pictured above with the students are Rusty Shaw, director of Native American programs at EOSC; Jo McDaniel, director of the Scholarship Advisement Program; Casi Dennis, peer director; Joy Culbreath, Executive Director of Education; and Assistant Chief Mike Bailey.

Also sharing information with the students were Larry Wade, the tribe's director of Higher Education; Leah McLaughlin, vice president of enrollment management and student services at EOSC; and Jana Calloway of the Native American Program at Southeastern Oklahoma State College.
